School Song

*Oh, hail to ole' Wadesboro High,
Whose praises we ever will sing;
Whose name, through all the ages,
Will surely ever ring.*

*We, your sons and daughters true,
Will cherish and honor you dearly,
And try to bring you glory due.*

So hail to thee!

*Oh, hail to thee,
Our Alma Mater!*

Foreword -

Time plays an important part in our high school days. Six hours a day are spent in school, and many other hours are spent on school activities. We spend some of the best years of our lives in school. High school days may not make us great, but they will leave many great memories on the sands of time.

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time."

We, the staff, present this 1949 edition of the Hi-Ways with these things in mind.

Dedication

We, the Senior Class, do dedicate this the 1949 edition of our annual, the Hi-Ways, to Mr. W. L. Wildermuth, whom time has made dear to us.

Class Song

(Tune: After Graduation Day)

*Classmates true, we'll soon be parting
On our graduation day,
But we'll ne'er forget the mem'ries
We shared together along the way.
Thru the years we will remember
After graduation day
Friends we made and shared our joys with
We'll prove there's something in what we say.
Now's the time to say goodbye, friends
The class of '49 must part.
Now we must leave dear Wadesboro High School
Although a tear may fill each heart.
We will live up to our motto:
Strive, to seek, and not to yield.
We will meet again on the way
Long after graduation day.*

Historian

On September 5, 1937, we the class of 1949, entered the portals of the Wadesboro Public Schools. This was an event of great importance to us. Miss Mary Plunkett, Mrs. Lee Ashcraft, Mrs. Joe Liles, and Miss Anne L. Massemore quieted our mothers enough to obtain our names. For us school began. The first few weeks were filled with the hard tasks of getting adjusted to our new surroundings—then we settled down to work.

Eight years of grammar school rolled by under the capable guidance of Mrs. W. L. McKinnon, Mrs. Chase Baughn, Miss Elizabeth Webb, Miss Julia Cameron, Miss Geneva Neil, Mrs. Elinor Gray, Miss Fannie Dunlap, Miss Barbara Weir, Miss Alice Lampley, Miss Pauline Pinkston, Mrs. H. E. Allen, Mr. Louis Fogleman, Miss Nora Boggan, Mrs. W. W. Bennett, Mrs. W. J. Gullede, Mrs. Winkie Daniels, Mrs. Mac Henderson, and Miss Mary Mitchell. Those eight years introduced the three R's along with history, geography, and spelling. Our outside activities that we remember particularly were our chapel programs, our dancing the minuet for Jr.-Sr., and our part in the May Day exercise when we were in the seventh grade. All this terminated in our eighth grade graduation exercises. The valedictorian was Margaret McRae. Frances Dawking was salutatorian.

In 1945 we entered our second and final step at Wadesboro—we became freshmen in Wadesboro High.

The events followed one another so rapidly that it is difficult to enumerate them and give to each its place of importance. All high school experiences were not rose colored. We remember some rather painful experiences; such as, detention hall, laps on the football field or in the gym, being last in lunch line, and examinations.

CLASS HISTORY

W. N. Hix, J. Ray Shelton, Mrs. George Craig, Mrs. L. A. Weddington, Miss Frances Moore, B. P. Robinson, Mrs. Thomas Wall, Prof. Al Paling, Mrs. Elsie Carriker, Mrs. B. P. Robinson, W. L. Wildermuth, Miss Carrie Sturgis, Miss Hermine Caraway, Mrs. Sam Milton, Miss Mary Alice Turner and Miss Norma Smoak were our instructors for the first two years in high school. Under these, we learned to change classes (quietly), to branch out in our subject matter and in other school activities. Many of our class members took part in the special activities of the school such as the annual and the newspaper. Many of us had our names to appear on the football, basketball, and baseball rosters for the first time.

Our Junior year was one of our busiest years. Under the capable guidance of Miss Hermine Caraway, W. L. Wildermuth, Mrs. Thomas Wall, J. Ray Shelton, Miss Edna Gieseking, Douglas Hall, Miss Carrie Sturgis, Miss Mary Alice Turner, Mrs. Charles Little, Miss Anne Carter, and Mrs. Sam Harrell we learned what such subjects as geometry, chemistry, and glee club had to offer. During this year many of our class members were well known as football, basketball, and baseball players, as well as cheerleaders. Hank Wall, Phil Robinson, and Dick Liles participated in football and basketball. Dick Liles and Lee Roy Bowers played baseball. Betty Jane Coggin and Betty Rose Short played basketball for the girls. Caroline served as cheerleader. Our class sold over $1,000 worth of magazine subscriptions to earn money for Junior Senior banquet; for this the Curtis Publishing Company awarded the class a bronze plaque. The Junior-Senior Banquet was held at the Country Club, while we were juniors, for the first time in history of the W.H.S. The theme of the banquet was that of a night club. The name of it was "The Club Jr.-Sr." Music was furnished by "The Carolinians" of Chapel Hill.

Our Junior play was entitled "Bound To Marry." The cast included: Caroline Taylor, Mary Agnes Allen, Eloise Hasty, Helen Stewart, Paul Sessions, Dwight Stephenson, Dick Liles, Margaret McRae,

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

To All Whom This May Concern:

We, the seniors of 1949, of Wadesboro High School, being of sane mind and sound body to hereby execute this last will and testament in the following manner:

To Mr. Wildermuth, our kind-hearted and thoughtful superintendent, we leave our gratitude for his special efforts to lend support in all our undertakings.

To Mr. Shelton, our loyal principal, we leave our sincere appreciation for all the problems he has helped us solve.

To Miss Sturgis, our beloved teacher, we leave our love for the excellent job she has done in the last year of our high school life.

To the faculty, we leave our deep and genuine appreciation for their hard work and enduring patience.

To the class of 1950, we leave the honor of following in our footsteps; also the privilege of occupying the front seats in chapel.

To the class of 1951, we leave all the headaches of planning the Junior-Senior Banquets.

To the class of 1952, we leave all our hopes for a successful high school life.

The following seniors have bequeathed the following traits:

I, Dwight Stephenson, do leave my ability to preside over the Senior Class to the president of the Class of 1950.

We, Esther Covington and Becky Allen, do leave Norwood and all its boys to Amelia Hildreth.

I, Eloise Hasty, do leave my jolliness and also my boisterous laughter to Ruth Treadaway.

I, Addie Milks, do leave my slenderness to Lois Turner.

I, Doris Scott, do leave Med Northcutt to any girl who can get him.

I, Eloise Horne, do leave my quiet ways to Jo Alyce Lackey.

I, Margaret McRae, do leave my thoroughness in work to Clyde Wright.

I, Agnes Gilmore, do leave my senior dignity to Margaret Moore.

I, Allelia Gray, do leave my business-like ways to Lib Faulkner.

ELSIE MOORE
Testator

I, Julia Ross Teal, do leave my winning personality to Faye Stogner.

I, Cora Lee Sellars, do leave my ability to be the first engaged senior to Ruth Wright.

I, Caroline Taylor, do leave my musical ability to Claudia Marsh.

I, Tillie Kelly, do leave my love for sailors to Vonnette Melton.

I, J. C. Carter, do leave my interest in women to Don Trexler.

I, Betty Rose Short, do leave my ability to talk incessantly and mostly about nothing to Mildred Starling.

We, Christine Tarleton, Willie Horne, and Lois Hildreth, do leave our giggling ways to Jessie McRae and Delores Short.

I, Herbert Ingram, do leave my ability to sing solos in homeroom to Dick Roper.

We, William Almond, Lee Roy Bowers, and Paul Sessions, do leave our quiet manners to Douglas Britt, Buddy Rogers, and Joe Harkey.

We, Mary Elinor Covington, and Betty Jane Coggin, do leave our places on the basketball team to Sara Elizabeth Moore and Carole Gray.

I, Charles Gathings, do leave my executive ability to next year's president of Student Council.

I, Sylvia Farris, do leave my ability to walk in every morning just as the last bell rings to Fetzer Mills.

I, Dorothy Lookabill, do leave my flirty ways to Willie Mae Gaddy.

We, Joyce Brower and Emmy Lou Lewis, do leave our secrets to any person that has as many as we have.

I, Maxine Henley, do leave my friendly smiles to Helen Howard.

We, Doris Ann Talent and Vera Sings, do leave our love for out-of-town boys to Barbara Russell.

DICK LILES
Prophet

Well, next year this time I'll probably be hungry, out of a job, and down-hearted, but I did enjoy my four years in office. I never will forget four years ago when I started out on my political career. When the Honorable Dixie Repdem was elected to the presidency in 1960, I was selected as his personal secretary. 'Ole Dixie began his "illustrious" term by giving me the longest list of things to do you ever saw. Just as soon as the old bird got into office, he began to "revolutionize" America. He must have thought he could do it in a day, for my work intimated such. As I glanced down the list it occurred to me that it would take more work and much more brains than I had to finish the job. I Had to look to someone for help, and the first thing that struck the 'ole noggin was my high school classmates. I began to wonder what and when and where my friends were. I knew that at least one of my old pals could fill each of the jobs that had been allotted me, and yes, the class of 1949 of Wadesboro High School came to the rescue.

The first thing on the list was a doctor. Yep, 'ole Dix wanted a personal medicine man, so I began to dig him up one. I hopped into my '49 Ford (which is an antique now), and ran over to Johns Hopkins. There I found none other than Dr. Becky Allen, a brain (not brainy) surgeon. After Becky promised to fill the position Dixie offered, she told me how she became a brain surgeon.

While in college, it seems that she underwent an operation on her brain and when the ordeal was over she discovered that it (her brain) worked better so she decided to devote the rest of her life to brain surgery. She promised also to bring with her, two swell nurses and also classmates of ours, Mary Eloise Horne and Elsie Moore.

For my next assignment I needed a carpenter and an interior decorator. Hon. Dixie wanted a balcony or something added to the White House, so I returned to Wadesboro to find one. It sure was wonderful to be home again, but everything had changed so! As I walked by the theater I recognized Auldon Lovett, who was owner of a chain of theaters and sound technician expert at M-G-M on the side. Auldon had a fine setup and while standing there talking he called attention to the feature on then. It starred three of our classmates: Allelia Gray and Agnes Gilmore, two beautiful glamorous gals, fighting over Georgeous Charles Kiser pronounced Kiss—yea. I glanced in the boxoffice and found that his chief executive in the ticket office was Emmy Lewis.

Further on down the street, I noticed a huge modernistic structure with a sign that read, "CARS, Inc." It turned out that Jack Pegram and William Almond owned and ran it. They bought, sold, and traded old, new, and repaired cars. They talked me into trading for a new job so I turned over my '49 model for a newer model. While there they took me into their office and I met more of my classmates. Taking care of the books, etc., were Lois Hildreth, Willie Horne, and Vera Sings.

As I walked from Shorty and Jack's place, I noticed a huge neon sign, "WADE-100,000 Watts—We house the Golden Voice of Radio, Dwight Stephenson." I hurriedly entered the huge marble structure and after much red tape I met Mr. Stephenson. He was the president and manager of the new station. Dwight told me many things about our old pals. He has a few working for him. Bill Covington was the chief engineer of the powerful station, Sylvia Farris was his "first lady" vocalist and Ray Stiles, the Ernest Tubbs of WADE. Dwight told me about his famous two hour Sunday television show which starred a complete cast of our class. He said he was lucky enough to procure Caroline Taylor and Herbert Ingram, two musical artists of stage and screen, to play and sing and the rest of his cast and Phil Robinson. Miss Sara Benton directed the play. Hank Wall was the stage manager. At the close of our junior year, Julia Ross Teal and Margaret McRae were chosen by the school officials to represent our school at Girls' State. There Margaret was elected Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and Julia Ross, an associate Justice.

CLASS HISTORY

At the graduation exercises Margaret McRae was Chief Marshal. Dwight Stephenson and Allelia Gray were the other marshals from our class. Hank Wall was awarded the Citizenship Cup.

With awe and reverence do I speak of our senior year. Busiest and yet most delightful of the four, it is one which may not be recorded, so full has it been of work and play, sorrow and happiness. It has meant the attainment of our goal and the realizations of our ideals.

Some of our class mates were leaders of the newspaper and the annual. Others served as officers of the Student Council. Margaret McRae was Editor of The Student Prints; Dwight Stephenson, assistant editor; and Betty Jane Coggin, business managed. Julia Ross Teal edited the Hi-Ways; Mary Agnes Allen was assistant editor; and Allelia Gray was business manager. Charles Gathings was president of the Student Council and Julia Ross Teal was secretary and treasurer. Phil Robinson was senior representative on the council.

The Senior boys on the football team were: Hank Wall, Max Gilmore, Harold Edwards, Bobby Kiser, Dick Liles, and Phil Robinson. Max Gilmore and Hank Wall were elected co-captains. The girls' basketball team elected Betty Jane Coggin and Mary Elinor Covington co-captains. Hank Wall was elected co-captain of the boys' basketball team for the second year. Other seniors on the team were: Dick Liles, Max Gilmore, and Phil Robinson.

The Seniors chose Jennie Lee Cashion and Joe Capel as their mascots. These mascots took part in the various commencement activities.

Thus ends the history of what we think is the most remarkable class that ever graduated from Wadesboro High School. For four years we have covered ourselves with glory, and now we stand before you for the last time as a class. Though not a thrilling history to relate to outsiders, every part of it is dear to us, and as we part from these walls let us look forward to a career of even greater glory when we are alumni of Wadesboro High.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, Phil Robinson, do leave my place in the senior class to my sister, Betsy Robinson.

We, Hank Wall, Max Gilmore, Harold Edwards and Bobby Kiser, do leave our regret for having to leave our dear old football team.

I, Jack Pegram, do leave my love for sophomore girls to Dewey Presslar.

We, Ray Stiles and Auldon Lovett, do leave our love for driving cars to Jerry Wilkinson and Charles Scarboro.

I, Bill Covington, do leave my studious mind to Vick Gilmore.

I, Mary Agnes Allen, do leave my ability to go steady to any girl who is that lucky.

I, Dick Liles, do leave my neat appearance to Alvin Butler.

I, Elsie Moore, having no special talent, do leave my love and best wishes to Wadesboro High School.

I, hereunto set my hand and seal this, the first day of June, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-nine.

The Class of 1949

included Sylvia Farris, noted vocalist, Ray Stiles, the hillbilly's friend; and Ad-die Milks, the regular pianist of the station. Of course the engineer, who has a tremendous job, was Bill (Ohms) Covington and the Master of Ceremonies was Dwight (TV) Stephenson.

Dwight's "working" staff included the following '49ers: Joyce Brower, Juanita Kelly, Doris Scott, Christine Tarleton, and Dorothy Lookabill. These were writers, secretaries, bookkeepers, script writers, advertisers, etc. The folks in the radio business were really on the ball.

On leaving the station, I walked on down the street until I was attracted by one of these "before and after" signs in a window of a rather large modernistic building. Then I recognized one of the faces. It was Eloise Hasty, but the second one was a mystery until I had read the sign above the door. It read "Sellers and Hasty, Reducing Parlor—You Put It On and We Take It Off." Then I knew that the second must be Eloise also, "after" the treatment. I immediately went in to speak to them and was flabbergasted beyond words; Cora Lee and Eloise both were as thin as rails. I had quite an enlightening chat with them, for they told me where I could find other members of our class. Right behind their place was a beauty parlor facing the other street and this was run by Doris Ann Talent and Betty Rose Short. The two places worked together, helping each other with business. I got out without being either reduced or beautified.

CLASS PROPHECY

At the largest grocery store in town, the J & C, I found one of my old buddies, J. C. Carter, as the manager of the huge super market. J. C. had a fine business and a very modernistic store. I learned from J. C. that another member of our class was affiliated with his business. The editor of the official J & C magazine, "Woman's Day," was none other than Julia Ross Teal. Goula had made quite a name for herself in the literary world. J. C. got busy again; so I stepped out and went on my merry way.

I was looking over the huge telephone directory at the "drug" when who should approach me but two lovely young ladies, namely Betty Jane Coggin and Mary Agnes Allen. I learned from them that they were married to wealthy men. While talking to them, I learned about a lot of things that had happened in my 15 year absence. I was further assured that our class certainly had made a great, big name for itself in the world. While we were talking, two well-dressed gentlemen approached and I could tell from a distance that they were Charles Gathings and Harold Edwards. Charlie and Harold related the news that they were law partners. Criminal (not crooked) lawyers! You'd have never thought it, but anything can happen in fifteen years.

After the girls departed, the boys took me to a football game down at the huge, new stadium, and there is where I got the surprise of my life. The coaches of the local eleven were Max Gilmore and Hank Wall. The boys had been coaching two years, in which time their teams had won a state championship and were heading for another. After the Tigers won the game, the coaches told me some interesting things. Phil Robinson had built their coliseum, which was the best in the state, and Lee Roy Bowers had put their teams on the sports world map. Phil was chief engineer of the Digum, Scoopum, and Pobinson Contractors and Lee Roy was the sports editor of the Anson Times, leading newspaper of this thriving city of 50,000 people. Over a thick milkshake that night, the boys told me that Mary Elinor Covington was Physical Ed. director of girls at the huge consolidated school in Wadesboro and that she had brought girls sports to a very high level.

We bade goodbye and I went on my way. That night there was only one light still on along the once-busy street. That light was in the newspaper office, and I decided to drop in. I nearly dropped my teeth when I found that Margaret McRae was the editor. As usual we fell into a long chat about old times. On the side Mac was religious education director for a local church and of course held down many other varied jobs. I figured Mac could help me with my job so I pulled out my little black book and showed her the jobs left. She gave me instructions and I departed gloriously.

Just as Margaret had said, the carpenter was found at the filling station in the forks of the road. Paul Sessions, "the best builder in town," promised he would start on the White House job as soon as he finished a building for Maxine Henley, the town's most popular florist. I found a wonderful interior decorator in Esther Covington right in town, also, and with all my jobs ended, I returned to Capital Hill.

I couldn't help thinking out loud as I sat on Dixie's new balcony. Our class surely had learned "To Strive, To Seek, To Find, and Not To Yield." We had stuck by our motto which we chose in 1949 at Wadesboro High School. Who knows? Our class may rise to even greater fame as the years go by. Teaching for the stars, we may attain them. At any rate, "Time Marches On."
